

Patrón Cask Collection Sherry Añejo makes appearance at Changi ▶

Patrón's new ultra-premium GTR exclusive offering began as all the company's tequilas begin – with the highest quality 100 percent Weber Blue Agave. The agave was then crushed, fermented and distilled using the time honored "tahona" process, together with the more modern roller mill method. After distillation, the tequila was aged for more than two years in oak barrels from Spain that were previously used to produce Oloroso Sherry.

A very limited, exclusive allocation of Patrón Cask Collection Sherry Añejo was initially produced for global duty free in 2017, prior to a broader release in select domestic markets in the future.

Patrón's Master Distiller Francisco Alcaraz explains that he's been working with sherry casks for many years to achieve the perfect balance of the unmistakable taste from the sherry-soaked oak without losing any of the characteristic flavor of the agave. "Sherry casks exhibit an elegant flavor and aroma of pecans, which marry beautifully with the taste of agave," he says.

Recently, this GTR exclusive was featured at DFS, Changi airport in Singapore. John Kilmartin, Vice President, Global Travel Retail at Patrón Spirits International, reaffirms the channel's important position for the company: "Travel retail continues to play a vital role in the global growth and success of Patrón tequila, which is why we're committed to offer unique duty free exclusive products and packages in this important retail channel."

Diverse Flavours adds sake and whisky to its stellar wine lineup ▼

Diverse Flavours is well known as distributors of fine wines from South Africa including the award-winning Groot Constantia wines, South Africa's oldest winery, dating back to 1685; Ernie Els wines, from an iconic Stellenbosch winery; Avondale, which pioneered the BioLOGIC® methodology that incorporates certified organic, biodynamic and scientific farming principles in order to create living systems naturally; and Cederberg, South Africa's highest winery from one of the most remote wine producing areas in the world.

This year at Diverse Flavours' always-busy stand at TFWA Asia Pacific, owner Antony Budd will be introducing the company's new Japanese Sake range from Sakuramasamune, one of Japan's oldest sake makers.

In 1840 the sixth head of the family, Tazaemon Yamamura, discovered the "Miyamizu" groundwater that continues to influence the sake industry today. He was also responsible for finding out the relation between the sake quality and the rice polishing ratio. He is credited as the originator of the "ginjō-shu," a premium sake.

Diverse Flavours is also launching a Scotch whiskies from the innovative new company Charles Edge London. Scots Gold, a range of high quality Scotch Blends at attractive price points, has been awarded Silver and Gold Medals at the Asian Spirits Masters, the International Wine and Spirit Competition (IWSC) and the Global Travel Retail Spirits Masters. Scots Gold is the perfect all-rounder and can be enjoyed neat or in signature cocktails created by Masahiko Endo, Head Bartender at the iconic whisky bar Mizunara: The Library in Hong Kong. Charles Edge London will also offer an exclusive sneak preview to their new lifestyle Whisky Trilogy at the Diverse Flavours stand, D34.
